The standard training module for practitioners involved in completing assessments and wanting to use the Signs of Safety approach is delivered via a 2-day training course. It is designed for all practitioners, supervisors and managers working with children where there are concerns about their safety and well-being.

This course will provide:

- An introduction to the Signs of Safety approach
- Opportunities for participants to practice using the approach on their own cases
- A demonstration of the model using a local case - via live case mapping with trainer using appreciative enquiries, solution focused questioning.
- An introduction to Safety Planning

- An introduction to tools which support direct work with children
- The content will be the same for both practitioners and managers but will provide slightly different emphasis/feedback to participants according to their role.

On completion of this, participants are expected to use the model in practice and share their learning and knowledge with their colleagues. Partners attending the 2 day programme will become Partner Practice Leads. Places available: TBC
